WILL THERE BE WAR?

The crafty monarch who rules France for his own glory has his finger on the pulse of Europe, and the world shudders at the thought that the question of continued peace, or a conflict which shall bring the immense armies of a Continent into sanguinary collision, depends upon the selfish will of one ambitious man. The withdrawal of the obnoxious candidate leaves no reasonable excuse for France to rush headlong into bloodshed, but the underlying jealousy of Prussia is not appeased by a renunciation which does not come as a concession from that power, and an adjustment on that basis, leaves Bismarck in a position of vindicated dignity which dims the prestige of Napoleon.

Will he recede from the arrogant position first assumed? The dispatches announce that an adjustment has been effected, that peace is assured; and the same medium brings intelligence of imperious demands by the French Ambassador and their haughty dismissal by King William. The Ministerial organs in Paris assume that the difficulty is ended, and still the massing of troops, mysterious conferences with the Emperor, and the vague utterances of the Ministers themselves seem to give the lie to such a statement.

The boldness with which Prim accepts the situation, declaring that "Spain cannot without shame draw back," is a fresh defiance which must goad the pride of Napoleon, and make it doubly bitter to retreat, as if before the combined menaces of Spain and Prussia. They have stood by their candidate, who has voluntarily withdrawn, while Franco has gained no point over her adversaries, and the coveted territory on the frontier is still enclosed by Prussian boundaries.

England has thrown all her influence in favor of peace, Mr. Gladstone declaring that his Government would exhaust every means to prevent war upon a case so little warranting it," but Napoleon and Bismarck are playing this game, and their moves will be dictated only by their own will brains. With them, the issues involved are the playthings of strategy, and while they continue to plot there can be no positive assurance of peace.

THE ARMY AND NAVY OF THE GULF.

The second annual re-union of the Society of the Army and Navy of the Gulf, takes place in Boston, Aug. 3, 1870. Admiral D. G. Farragut presiding. Officers throughout the country who served in the Department are requested to communicate with the Secretary, Col. Granville P. Hawes, No. 170, Broadway, New York. Nearly all of the most prominent officers of the army and navy have accepted invitations to be present. Among those expected are Lieut. Gen. Phil. Sheridan, Major Gen. B. F. Butler, Major Gen. N. P. Banks, Admiral D. G. Farragut, Rear Admiral T. Bailey, Major Gen. Wm. H. Emory, Major Gen. Godfrey Weitzel, Major Gen. C. Grover, Major Gen. H. E. Paine, Gen. T. W. Sherman, Major Gen. E. R. S. Canby, Major Gen. C. Augur, Major Gen. J. J. Reynolds, Major Gen. Wm. B. Franklin, and a host of other veterans. The reunion of this Society at Long Branch last year was a great success, and it is expected that the meeting this year will be a still greater one. Great preparations have been made at Boston for giving the heroes a warm reception.

THE SINKING FUND BILL.—Section 1 of the Funding Bill which passed Congress Wednesday afternoon, provides for the issue of $200,000,000 of 5 per cent. bonds; $300,000,000 of 4½ per cent. bonds, and $1,000,000,000 of 6 per cent. bonds, running respectively 10, 15 and 20 years. Section 2 authorizes the Secretary to sell said bonds at par, for coin and to apply the proceeds to the redemption of outstanding 5-20s at par, or he may exchange the new for the old bonds at par, but the new bonds shall be issued for no other purpose. A sum not exceeding one-half per cent. will be allowed for commission in negotiating the new bonds. Section 3 is unimportant. Section 4 provides for the redemption of the 5-20s now or hereafter falling due at par, beginning with the first numbered and issued; the interest to cease three months after proper notice has been given. Section 5 authorizes 2½ per cent. interest on gold deposits and 2½ per cent. of such deposits must be retained in the United States Treasury, and the balance to be used in the redemption of 5-20s under the provision of section 4. Section 6 provides for the cancelling of all bonds now held or hereafter purchased on account of the Sinking Fund.

THE TAX AND TARIFF BILL.—The tax and tariff bill which was passed by both houses on Wednesday and sent to the President for his signature embraces the following provisions:

It repeals unconditionally, after Oct. 1st, 1870, all taxes on sales of lard and manufactured tobacco, snuff, cigars, foreign and domestic and distilled spirits and, while the stamp tax imposed in schedule B on promissory notes for a less sum than $100, and on receipts for any sum of money or for the payment of any debt, and the stamp tax imposed in schedule C on canned and preserved fruits; on articles in schedule A; the special tax on boats, barges and flats; on legacies and successions; on passports and on gross receipts. The income tax provisions are as follows: There shall be levied and collected annually as hereinafter provided for the years of 1870 and 1871, and no longer, 2½ per cent. upon the gains, profits and income of every person residing in the United States, and of any citizen of the United States residing abroad, derived from any source whatever, whether within or without the United States, except as hereinafter provided; and a like tax annually upon the gains, profits and income derived from any business, trade or profession carried on in the United States by every person residing without the United States and not a citizen thereof; and upon all real estate within the United States owned by any person residing without the United States and not a citizen thereof. There shall be an exception of $2000, and a deduction [illegible] rent of dwelling house [illegible] persons composing each family, in ascertaining fractional parts of $50 of income, less than five, of over five hundred dollars shall be held to constitute [illegible] exemption of $1000 shall be [illegible] Insurance Companies shall be [illegible] which dividends are paid [illegible] otherwise, and money returned by Mutual Insurance Companies [illegible] policy holders, and all annuity or accumulating dividends allowed or paid by [illegible] savings institutions [illegible] be considered as dividends.

M. Provost Paradol, the French Minister was interviewed before leaving Washington Wednesday, and although he knew nothing of the war news until he reached this city, is very confident that the war cloud will blow over. He said: "War with Prussia in defence of the legitimate influence of France in the Peninsula, would unite the Orleanists, Republicans, Reds, and all parties. There is but one party in France when the first shot is fired in defence of French Honor, and that the party of the government."

COMMENCEMENT AT BOWDOIN COLLEGE.

BRUNSWICK, July 14, 1870.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier:

Tuesday noon we found ourselves in the classic plains and in the ancient Tontine, and on a pleasant ride by rail from the banks of the Penobscot, via the banks of the Kennebec, to the banks of the Androscoggin. The rebuilding of the railroad bridge at Augusta will occupy the whole season, and it is almost hourly felt by the travelling public. What most particularly attracts the stranger's eye in bowling down the Kennebec are the numerous ice-houses, mostly improved the past winter, which so frequently [illegible] banks of this beautiful river. The [illegible] Providence as well as enterprise seems to have been engaged in this business. The unusual by severe temperature of the winter has made an increased demand for the product, and brought a very handsome income to the operators.

Reaching Brunswick, we found our Alma Mater's pluma[illegible] decidedly deep with the refreshing showers and the thick foliage that comes in from the neighboring [illegible] squats upon these grand, plain, old [illegible] and observing all things just as they used to in years gone by. We miss [illegible] spire of the College Church from the [illegible] supposed it had "gone up" in the night, but assured by Jake Sands—the [illegible] stage man, before the railroad era, and [illegible] accommodating proprietor of the [illegible] never refused the student credit, and [illegible] lost by it—that it had come "down" [illegible] three years ago before the blast of the [illegible] King Eolus. It ought to be replaced [illegible] necessary complement of the Chapel, [illegible] and a companion picture of the beautiful Chapel piece to break the dead level of the [illegible] tops of the other buildings and the pines.

The exercises of Commencement week opened on Sunday, with the baccalaureate sermon, by Prof. [illegible] from the distinctive characteristic and [illegible] the Christian, desiring of visiting, for text, Matthew 5th, verse 46, 47, "For if ye love them which love you, what reward have ye? Do not even the publicans the same?" It is impossible to say that Prof. Harris did not hope to blunder [illegible] He has delivered the Baccalaureate discourse since he left his [illegible] and indeed [illegible] whom his parish [illegible] serving out on a most [illegible] going in his old age to [illegible] comfortable salary of [illegible] obliged to write a new [illegible] he wishes to. Our informant [illegible] has raised his salary from $800 [illegible] thinks the offer comes too late. [illegible] must close. We are not writing [illegible]

DEDICATION OF A SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

The Soldiers' Monument erected in Canaan, was dedicated on Wednesday, using ceremonies, including a grand civic procession, and general demonstrations. The Monument is [illegible] of granite with the exception of [illegible] is sixty feet high and surmounted by a colossal statue of a soldier standing on his gun with bayonet fixed. Rev. Alexander McKenzie, of Augusta, the orator of the day, in his eloquent address thus alludes to the symbolic figure:

"Our soldier is in the due posture; not the deadly charge; not reposing; not lying dead; but standing in the battle, out of the din and [illegible] home, yet still watchful, "staring" [illegible] calm, eternal eyes," ready to [illegible] busy with heroic purposes; ready for a friend, brave enough for [illegible] * * * The man should stand to [illegible] out of our world. It is his place [illegible] world in the world to-day. [illegible] Our destiny is to repeat the [illegible] lands hear it, till sovereigns acknowledge it, till the weary and struggling [illegible] see the dawning of a better day, [illegible] cries in his birthright, and lives [illegible] of the world, the heir of the ages [illegible] ing of immortality.

H. COLLISION.—The following [illegible]

the collision upon the Western [illegible] Canaan, N. H., on Wednesday [illegible] Charles W. Clark, of Concord, [illegible] on down train, killed; Loring [illegible] New Hampton, Brakeman, fatally [illegible] M. Grant, Engineer on up train [illegible] dore Gilmore, of West Lebanon, [illegible] badly bruised about the head; [illegible] of West Lebanon, fireman, [illegible] den; A. Hurlburt, an extra engineer with Clark, had his leg severe injuries to the passengers reported [illegible]

The Department G. A. R. with [illegible] in Augusta comrades, visited Asylum and the Togus Military [illegible] day. At the latter place they [illegible] in true military style by their [illegible] comrades, and were treated [illegible] sible attention by the officers [illegible] of the asylum.

[illegible] ness, seven years of age, son of [illegible] of Barnum Mary C. Tom, was [illegible] erday from State Street where [illegible] he had been playing with [illegible] ther started for New York yesterday to meet her husband.

[illegible] dicated man who threw Conductor [illegible] to the air at Danville Junction, [illegible] fined $5 and costs at Auburn [illegible] The Journal says that the fellow [illegible] very penitent.

FORTY-FIRST CONGRESS--SECOND SESSION.

WASHINGTON, July 14.

SENATE.

Mr. Howard, from the Conference Committee on the Georgia bill, reported that the Committee were unable to agree, and moved that the Senate concur in the House amendments.

Mr. Trumbull opposed the proposition as involving an abandonment of the position in maintaining the right of the people of Georgia to hold an election during the coming fall.

Mr. Howard withdrew his motion with a view to the possible settlement of the matter in a conference committee.

Mr. Sumner, from the Committee on foreign relations, reported a bill for the relief of Nicholas P. Trist, the negotiator of the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo.

Mr. Wilson, from the Military Committee, reported adversely on the bill directing the Secretary of the Interior to deliver the Mount Vernon relics to Mrs. Mary Custer Lee. He said he was personally in favor of the bill, but it was subject overruled by the Committee.

A bill to construe the act of March 3d, '68, was passed. It allows a drawback on cotton goods exported prior to May 1st 1869, whose the internal tax was paid on raw cotton. It was intended to remedy the deficiency in the ruling of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Mr. Anthony was elected President pro tem, to preside during the recess, the Vice President having vacated the chair for that purpose.

The bill granting a pension of $3,000 per annum to Mrs. Mary Bincoln was passed—28 to 20.

Mr. Chandler's bill for the encouragement of American ship building by a system of drawbacks, and the passage of which he said the administration considered of vital importance, was read and discussed for some time, and laid on the table, by a vote of 21 to 19.

Messrs. Ramsey, Thurman and Stockton were appointed on a committee on the part of the Senate to accompany the remains of Senator Norton to the place of interment.

Mr. Ramsey stated that owing to the limited time of the session, the usual eulogies would be omitted at the next session.

The Conference Committee report on the sundry appropriation bill was agreed to.

Mr. Wilson submitted the report of the Conference Committee on the army appropriation bill, the provisions of which are as follows:

The pay of the General of the army is fixed at $13,500, with $300 per month, or $6,600 per annum commutation for fuel and quarters. Major Generals shall receive $9,000 and the whole compensation $17,700.

The pay of the Lieutenant General is fixed at $11,000, with fuel, forage and quarters, being a reduction of $1,000 on his present pay.

Officers in active service are not allowed to hold a civil office. Retired officers may hold office, which entitles Gen. Sickles to continue in his position as Minister to Spain. Military store-keepers are not to be dismissed, and upon the matter of brevets it is provided that no officer shall wear the uniform of brevet rank while on official duty, leaving it optional with him to wear it at any other time.

The provision allowing supernumerary officers the alternative of discharge on their own application or to furlough without pay, is stricken out, and the provision made for their muster out summarily after the first of January next was temporarily withdrawn for correction.

The Senate went into executive session for an hour and then took a recess.

EVENING SESSION.

At the evening session the Senate adhered to its amendments to the Indian appropriation bill and returned the House bill, placing $5,000,000 at the disposal of the President for Indian service to the Committee on appropriations.

The report of the Conference Committee on the sundry civil and deficiency appropriation bills was adopted.

A message was received from the President returning, with his objections, the bill providing for the payment of troops bounties to Alabama and Florida troops.

On motion it was ordered to be printed, and the whole subject went over until the next session.

HOUSE.

The Senate amendments to the bill requiring national banks going into liquidation to retire their circulating notes; for the relief of J. Allen Ratsbury, Post Master at Meriden Bridge, Conn., and of Joseph and Mathew M. Merriam, of Hartford, Conn., were agreed to.

Objection was made to taking up the Senate amendments to the appropriation bill and the bill remains on the Speaker's table.

The bills on the Speaker's table are about 150 in number, three for Railroad grants, and were objected to before the clerk had time to read their titles. The others either remained on the Speaker's table or were referred to a Committee.

The following bills were passed:

Granting condemned ordnance for soldiers' monuments at Providence, R.I., and at Bucksport, Me.; Bronze ordnance for an equestrian statue of Gen. Rawlins; to amend the act to incorporate a national academy of science.

The Washington and New York air line railway bill was reached, but objection being made, it remained on the speaker's table.

The following bills from the committee on ways and means were passed:

Authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to provide by contract for the manufacture of internal revenue stamps exempting canned and preserved fish from internal tax; which was amended by including shad fish.

Amending the act of the 20th of June, '64, by allowing the same rates of drawback of internal duties on brandy and other distilled spirits exported as on rum and alcohol.

The Senate bill authorizing the Secretary of War to take charge of the Gettysburg and Antietam national cemeteries was passed, and on the motion of Mr. Poland the Senate amendment to the bill to carry into effect the decree of the U. S. court in the case of the British schooner L. L. Davis, was non-concurred in.

Mr. Dawes of Mass., from the conference committee on the Indian appropriation bill, reported that they had been unable to agree.

After ten of twelve laborious sessions, the two Houses had taken positions in reference to the Indian treaties of 1868 which appeared irreconcilable, and now have been forced either to the necessity of having a session called by a proclamation of the President to attend the matter, or the responsibility of an Indian war; but he had been authorized by the committee on appropriations to report an entirely new bill appropriating five millions to enable the President to maintain peace among the Indians.

Mr. Sargent of Cal., made a final conference report on the subject and moved that the House adhere to its position on the bills.

This motion, which terminates the matter, and virtually kills the bill, was agreed to.

Mr. Dawes then called for the vote on the bill reported by him, and stated that if it was not passed the members would be called back to an extra session before they reached the railroad depots.

The rules were suspended and the bill was passed—123 to 66.

EVENING SESSION.

At the evening session the report of the Conference Committee on the appropriation bill was agreed to.

The sundry civil appropriation bill and a report by the Committee on the additional deficiency bill were agreed to. This is the last of the conference reports on the appropriation bill.

SENTENCE OF FENIANS.

CANANDAIGUA, July 14.

The Fenians Starr and Thompson were sentenced this morning to two years imprisonment in Auburn jail, and a fine of $10 each. Maginnis received one year's imprisonment and a fine of $10. The Court will adjourn to-day until the prisoners go to Auburn to-morrow.

FEARFUL STORM IN MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, Canada, July 14.

A most fearful storm swept over Montreal last evening. It commenced about 5 o'clock and actually levelled everything in its way. A large number of buildings were utterly destroyed, and hundreds severely damaged. No loss of life has yet been reported. Two of the large freight sheds of the Grand Trunk Railway were prostrated. The loss is immense. All the telegraphic communication with the city was stopped so far West as Lachine. There are rumors of still greater damage at other points from the storm.

CABLE NEWS.

PARIS, July 14. Military preparations still continue. Last night three to four hundred students made a demonstration in the streets while returning from a public ball, they shouted "Vive France, down with Prussia," and sang the Marseillaise without interruption by the police.

PARIS, July 14—3:30 P. M. There is great excitement in the bourse and rentes have fallen to 67f 15c. The journals say that the French Cabinet having received as the first concession of personal reparation of the Spanish crown by Prince Hohenzollern, agreed to continue the negotiations to obtain from the King of Prussia his official renunciation, now and forever, of all pretensions to the throne of Spain on the part of any member of the Hohenzollern family.

PARIS, July 14—5 P. M. It appears that the King of Prussia has refused to receive Count Benedetti or to assign the promise required of him by the French Government. The Emperor left St. Cloud at 10 this morning by a special train, and arrived at the Tuileries at noon. The Ministers were all at the palace and a council was held immediately. Half past three o'clock this afternoon the Presidents of the Senate and the Corps Legislatif, which were then in session, were informed that the Government would have a communication to make to those bodies before the close of the sitting. It is generally believed that this communication will be a declaration of war.

PARIS, July 15. The Emperor left the Tuileries at 9 o'clock on his return to St. Cloud, and at the same hour the Chambers were informed that no declaration would be made by the Government to-day. While the Ministerial Council was in session, a dispatch was received from the King of Prussia which changed the situation, and there is now reason to believe peace may be preserved. The agitation throughout the city is fabated. The majority of the evening papers maintain a warlike tone, and groups of people in the streets seem strongly in favor of war.

NEW YORK ITEMS

NEW YORK, July 14.

General George B. McClellan was to-day elected Chief Engineer of the Department of Docks, and will immediately enter on his duties.

William Archer to-day plead guilty in the Court of General Sessions of burglary to save his family from starvation. Recorder Hackett suspended his sentence and gave him $5.00.

The successful landing in Cuba of another expedition, consisting of arms, clothing and ammunition, is reported.

FROM WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, July 14.

The President to-day sent to the Senate the correspondence relative to the questions pending between the U. S. and Great Britain.

Mr. Motley, in a letter to Mr. Fish, details a conversation with Lord Clarendon in May last, during which Mr. Motley informed him of the desire of the President that when negotiations relative to the Alabama claims should be considered that they be re-opened at Washington. It further appears from the correspondence in a letter from Lord Clarendon to Mr. Motley, May 24th last, that her Majesty's Government consider it neither useful nor expedient to resume and continue the controversial correspondence in which so little hope for one government being able to convince the other.

The President to-day nominated Hon. T. E. Frelinghuysen (of New Jersey) to England, vice Motley, recalled.

TELLING FORTUNES.

BY ALICE CAREY.

"Be not among those sibbers; among riotous eaters of flesh, for the drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty, and drowsiness shall clothe a man with rags."—Proverbs xxiii, 20-21.

I'll tell you two fortunes, my fine little lad,
For you to accept or refuse;
The one of them good, the other end bad,
Now look them over and say which you choose.

I see by my glass, within reach of your hand,
A fortune agreeable to behold,
A house and a hundred good acres of land,
With harvest fields yellow as gold.

I see a great orchard, with limbs hanging down
With apples, russet and red,
I see droves of cattle, some white and some brown,
But all of them sleek, and well fed.

I see droves of swine about the barn door,
See the fanning mill whirling so fast;
I see them threshing wheat on the floor—
And now the bright picture has past!

And I see rising dismally up in the place
Of the beautiful house and the land,
A man with a frowzel nose on his face,
And a little brown jug in his hand!

Oh, if you beheld him, my lad, you would wish,
That he were less wretched to see;
For his boot toes they gape like the mouth of a fish—
And his trowsers are out at the knee!

In walking he staggers, now this way, now that,
And his eyes they stand out like a bug's;
And his nose it is red, and it turns up at that,
And I think that the fault is the jug's.

For the text says that the drunkard shall come to be poor,
And that drowsiness clothes men in rags,
And the doctor I look much like a man I am sure,
Who wears most hard cash in his bags.

Now which will you have? Ill be thrifty and sung,
And to be right sides up with you then,
Or go with your eyes like the eyes of a bug,
And your shoes like the mouth of a fish!

Little Girl Martyrdom. A Protest from One of the Sufferers.

Mr. Bonus—I don't no as little girls ought to put peeces into the paper, but I and Lily Jones and Susy Baker and all of us have such orful hard times we can't help tellin somebody and our, mammas won't hear a word and our pases don't seem to care, but I guess they will when they see it in the paper—don't you? We do have such dreadful times and I guess you would too, Mr. Bones if you had to hav all the hare in your hedd braded up on a dozen big strings every mite and then jirked and pulled as tite as it could bee till every hare jumped up and down and you had to stop all day on the top of a lot of bunches as hard as rocks a pullin all the time without a speck of chance to get your head laid anywhere, or your nek either from bed time till tomorrow morning. I guess you'd fret and scowl some even if your mammin or poor nurse did jirk and shake you round and tell you to hold still and be a good little gurl, shouldn't you think you would, Mr. Bones, or didn't you ever be sorry when your mother shaked you? I spose when you see us out walkin in the daylite with our frizzes all a bobbin and a flyin out inter the wind down our backs you think it looks mity pretty, and don't know nothing about what we've underwent threw the night before, but I want you should think how you'd feal if twas your hare and if you wouldn't squeel sometimes. My ma sais she does it to make me look decent, but grandma sais—you can't think what an old fear, good old grandma she is—sais when little gurls wore their hare cut short or only curled up by nature, who I spose was the nurse, tha looked ten times nicer than, tha do now, cause tha had good sleep a night's and was mear like sevilized human beins insted of like wild African black nigroes whose hare, was made to kitch kle with three many strings at all. I most know she speeks the truth cause I think I don't look perty tha'd feel perty, and I guess feels more than looks, don't you? My ma allus sais tha is glad that we mussn't think at all about our looks, but how can anybody help it when I see last night on a pile of bunchy hare and then had it all set a dyin round her head and neck a tickin on and all the time? One day when it pulled wurser than ever I askedd ma ma why, God didn't make my hard kinkedd up just like black Sally's if he wanted me to wear it so and my pa harfed but thy ma said I must, not be so pertinent and shaked me a good deal. I didn't know I was, and les her pull it dreadful and only groned inside. Susy sais she wants I should tell you about all our troubles, she feels just about as bad as I do, but I do, Cecilia don't she likes it, and if you cood see her shake herself and jigget round I guess you'd think she did, but Susy and I don't care a bit about looks nor about boys either, that is boys for beaux, we like little boys to play with over so much; but we don't wont no beaux and grandma sais troubles comes soon onuf without one beginning with emsin our sleeve hapens. If you put this in your paper I shall no you like little children and feel for them, and my mammin will see it and I guess will think her eyes and I no papa will harf. May be I shall rite you more about me having to go to night parties which hare wurs trubles than wurin hare almost, duly I don't no which is the wurst—do you?

LAURA CYNTHIE.

Grandma thinks I spell very well for a little gurl. 'Springfield Republican.

ARE SEWING MACHINES INJURIOUS?—In France, as well as in the country, the sewing machine has been accused of causing various hysterical and nervous disorders among the persons who are in the habit of its continuabuse of it. Dr. Delmasure, a French physician, after studying the effects of the sewing machine on between two and three women, thus sums up the results of his researches:

1. The pains in the muscles of the back and in the limbs which are complained of by those who use the sewing machine, are not in any way different from the pain which is felt after any sort of excessive pressure labor; are not met with among women who do not work more than two or three hours a day and soon disappear even among those who use the machine for a long period.

2. There is no reason to accuse the sewing machine of causing the bad digestions and deranged stomachs which are met with ten times out of four among all the other workwomen of Paris, just as well as among the sempstresses. In the same way certain disorders of the respiratory organs are found equally among all classes of Parisian women.

3. The noise of the machine has been said to produce nervous disorders, but although it is quite true that the machine is terrible to the ear at first, all the workwomen admit that its ill effects pass away as soon as they have got accustomed to its use.

4. Without affirming positively that the sewing machine is not the cause of certain hysterical affections and of unhealthy excitement, I am of opinion that the ob ervations which have been published on the subject, and the generalizations which have been drawn from them, are only by without value. The evil complained of has but rar ly been brought on by the sewing machine, and may generally be traced to other and totally different causes.

Dr. Delmasure prefers the machines which are worked with one pedal to those which have two, and is of opinion that with the former there is not the slightest danger of any ill results to the user. In conclusion, the memoir states that when the workwomen are not overworked, sempstresses using the machine are in just as good health as those working by hand only.

A GOOD ONE FOR SMOKERS.—At one of the recent receptions of Mrs. Logan, wife of Congressman Logan, whose eminent piety has won for her an extensive reputation, in walking her usual round of visitors, dropped in upon a neighbor, who was equally known as a temperance man and a hater of tobacco.

After being courteously received, the negress pulled from her pocket a long pipe, and commenced smoking some very "mean" tobacco to the infinite disgust of her host. The man maintained his composure several minutes, but the fumes and smoke became too powerful for him, and rising from his chair, he said:

"Aunt Chloe, do you think you are a christian?"

"Yes bruddur I speck I is."

"Do you believe in the bible aunty?"

"Do you know there is a passage in the scriptures which declares that nothing unclean shall inherit the kingdom of heaven?"

"Yes, I've heard of it."

"Do you believe it?"

"Yes."

"Well, Chloe, you cannot enter the kingdom of heaven. Because there is nothing so unclean as the breath of a smoker. What do you say to that?"

"Why speeks to leave my broff behind me when I go to heaven."

BIG CRICKET STORY.—A western newspaper says: "The black cricket, in a belt one mile wide and of unknown length, struck the Humboldt valley, about six miles above Elko, Nevada, and extended its surface was blackened for hours, and fields gathered from up and down the river, to feast upon them. It was found that horses driven into the cricket ranks became frightened, and could not be induced to proceed. Some of the individual crickets were of enormous size. In Utah, grasshoppers are said to 'subside' somewhat after a flock of them is driven rapidly about in a field containing a sheep. Near Stockton, as a railroad train was going up a steep grade in Echo Canon, it was brought to a stop by these insects. Another train came to its assistance, and with a plentiful distribution of sand and the services of a man standing on the cowcatcher, the locality so infested was at last distinctly passed."

ADDRESS

TO THE

NERVOUS

DEBILITATED.

Whose sufferings have been protracted from hidden causes, and whose cases, requiring prompt treatment to render existence endurable. If you are suffering, or have suffered, from involuntary discharges, while asleep, does it produce upon your general health? Do you feel weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky or flocky—or is it ropy on settling—or has a pink cloud rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspepsia? Do your bowels constipated? Do you have rolls of blushing, or rushes of blood, to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling on this subject? Do you feel dull, restless, moping, tired of company of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Does any little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or unrefreshing? Is the luster of your eye dim and brilliant? The bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you confide yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you feel as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, often depressed to the lowest state of melancholy? If so do not buy it to cure half of your complaint. Have you realized nights of toil, days of weak, weary, languid work, your nerves weak, and shaky, but little appetite, and you attribute this to dyspepsia or liver complaint?

Now, reader, if you are afflicted with any of the above symptoms, you can be cured, and speedily too, for all capable of producing a wreck of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health, make the man. Did you ever think that these bold, daring, enterprising, successful business men are always those whose generative organs are in a perfect state? You never hear of such men being cowardly, of nervousness, of palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid, they succeed in business; they never have to borrow money, they are always ready and prepared in the country of ladies, and to look you and them right in the face—none of your downcast looks or any other meanness about them. I do not mean those who keep themselves polluted by running to excess. These do not run their constitutions, but also those they do business with or for.

How many men from daily excesses, from the effects of a badly cured disease, or some other cause, have brought that state of weakness in the organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce nervousness, dyspepsia, indigestion, dizziness, consumption, epilepsy, spinal affection, suicide, and almost every other form of fatal disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble hardly ever suspected, and have been doctored for all but the right one.

Diseases of these organs require the use of a diuretic
